

What home means to me

Scholarship essay contest

As a former high school teacher, I know how much work and effort go into your four years of High school. Now you are almost finished and looking forward to college and all of the experiences that await you there. It's an exciting time and there is so much to look forward to. As a mother of two college age children, I know that there can be an incredible financial burden that comes along with that education. I would like to help in some small way with that cost.

I am now a realtor in the Greater St. Louis area, helping many families find a place to call home. The place that we call home and the feelings that we have toward it, are different for each individual. As you look to the future and think about the possibility of leaving home for the first time, reflect on what home means to you. You can submit a 300-600 word essay explaining what Home means to you. The winner of this essay contest will receive a one time $500 scholarship to the college or university of their choice.

Essays will be judged on content, execution and creativity. Essays can be emailed to hartmannscholarship@gmail.com, or sent to the address below. Essays are due April 6th and winners will be announced the week of April 20th. You must be a senior graduating in 2020, planning to attend either a 2 or 4 year academic college program in the fall of 2020. Seniors attending high schools in the greater St. Louis area are invited to apply.

Please include the following information with your essay.

First and last name

Student email address

Home Address

Parent name and email address

Phone number

High School

College or University that you plan to attend

Course of study (if known)

And of course the 300-600 word essay

By submitting, you are stating that the essay is your own work, and you are also giving us permission to share the essay and your picture receiving the award on our website, social media sites, newsletter and community news sources. Scholarship check will be made directly to the college or university of your choice and be applied to your first semester.

Thank you for your essay submission, and best wishes on your graduation and all of the exciting adventures awaiting you.

Krista Hartmann

13208 Manchester Rd. St. Louis, MO 63131

Please contact Stacy Knorp with any questions slknorp@gmail.com